Following its release, several controversies arose regarding similarities between this film and "Taam Arivu", a previously released science-fiction film starring Suriya. The director of the latter, AR Murugadoss, and his associate Hari were later given credits in the film's title and songs. Following the release, a legal suit was filed against Shibu Gangadharan citing plagiarism. The verdict went in favour of Murugadoss and Hari. Despite that, Gangadharan released a DVD on YouTube claiming that there was no such case filed by Murugadoss as claimed by him and that he was still to receive any such order from the court confirming the claim. The music is scored by Vidyasagar.
